

Hello everyone,

Apologies it has taken a while to write this e-mail! I want to say it has been an absolute pleasure to work with you all on your SciArt project, we thoroughly enjoyed welcoming you to LSTM and showing you our science and history.

I want to say how much I loved your exhibition and was captivated by the work you produced and the stories behind the pieces. Lee felt the same too. Meg and Sarah were very disappointed they could not make the exhibition on the day but thoroughly enjoyed the pictures you took, and Lee kindly spent some time chatting with them about the pieces in more detail. So very well done on all your hard work!! I had such a fantastic day at the Tate and wished the exhibition could have been displayed for longer. Sarah and I will be chatting with Sandra and Tricia to see how we can continue to work together.

Feel free to keep in touch with me if you would like more material/information as you develop your pieces over time. You are more than welcome back to LSTM, anytime, for a visit.

To the artist teachers - if you would like to conduct a project with your school students relating to the work of LSTM and the pieces you have developed, we would be very open to ideas and projects. Perhaps some of our academics could visit your school to speak to your students? (depending on availability and location, of course).

I would very much like our relationship to continue into 2017!

Hope you all have a lovely Christmas and new year.

Very best wishes,

Elli

Dr Elli Wright

Public Engagement Manager

Liverpool School of Tropical Medicine

Old School Building, Pembroke Place

Liverpool, L3 5QA

Telephone: 0151 705 2554